Professional Profile

I am currently studying web development in Nancy, to get a professional Bachelor at the end of the school year, and I'd like to become a team leader in the future.

I'm able to create web applications, either the front or the back-end.

Doing numerous projects during my studies, doing group work in most of them, made me quite confident in my team work abilities.

As I like to read novels such as Tolkien and R.R Martin, I learned English by myself.
